

17X27 HANDCRAFTED DOYET CLAY PLAIN TILE

OUR TILE FOR ALL historical and traditional ROOFING PROJECTS

EDILIANS

The background of the entire page is a close-up photograph of several reddish-brown, rectangular tiles scattered on a rustic wooden surface. The tiles have a slightly textured, weathered appearance. The wood grain is prominent, with various shades of brown and tan. The lighting is warm, creating soft shadows and highlights on the tiles and wood.

Our aim is to preserve your local heritage, so we have created our 17X27 HANDCRAFTED DOYET PLAIN TILE, ideal for all historic and traditional roofing projects.

In following tradition, we offer you a tile to create your own authentic style.

After grinding and extruding the clay, the tiles are dried with wood bark and then fired with sawdust. This manufacturing process uses 100% green energy.

We use traditional firing techniques, with a wood fire, to create unrivalled blends of colours and hues within each batch.

Tiles are fired at an average temperature of 1000° for 2 days, with subtle variations depending on the position of tiles within the kiln ensuring each tile is unique in shape and finish.

With its Vézère colour, this new tile perfectly matches local English Heritage.

A distressed SURFACE AND TAIL

An irregular effect to reinforce the aesthetic appearance of tiles eroded over time with a variable granular deposit on the surface.

Traditional FIRING OVER A WOOD FIRE

A FORMAT ADAPTED FOR *ancient roofing

Variable TILE LENGTH

Each tile has a slightly different length to reflect the irregularity of old roofs. Our unique cutting system enables 50% of tiles to vary in length by 1cm.
